A good story is going the rounds concerning our heaviest grain merchant here, who had a purchasing agent out in the country. The agent stumbled over a desirable lot of wheat, and telegraphed, asking if he should buy, naming price. The answer came back—"No price too high." The omission of the telegraph to punctuate, cost the parties just $10,000. If it put a little stop after "No," the agent would not have read it as a carte blanche to buy at any price. He found there was a price too high, and he paid it, and the ten thousand was the balance, on the wrong side of the ledger when the account was closed up.—San Francisco Corr.

THE STORMS BEAR-DOG.—Park Commissioners Williamson and Stewart, the committee appointed to investigate the disappearance from the Central Park carnivorium of the bull-dog "Danger," who was captured by Mr. Bergh's officers, and confined in the menagerie yesterday examined a number of park-keepers and laborers in relation to the matter. Their evidence failed to afford the slightest clue to the whereabouts of the dog or the manner of his disappearance. "Danger" was supposed to be the finest specimen of his kind ever seen in this country, and was valued at $600.—N. Y. Times, Oct. 27th.

Washington gossip has it that Admiral Porter's handsome mansion bids fair to be ablaze with the brilliant light of honeymoons this winter, as the peans announcing the marriage of his two sons with Southern heiresses are wafted us on the wings of autumnal winds, and Dame Rumor confidentially informs us that Miss Lizzie has brought to her feet a distinguished New York journalist, with all his money, enterprise, horses, and soup philanthropy. Miss Porter is conspicuous for her finely moulded figure and exquisite taste in dressing, and her very graceful dancing.

ANIMAL AFFECTION.

The contractors employed on the Boston water-works, had a valuable cart-horse injured some time ago. The animal was led home to the stable, where about fifty horses were generally kept. The hostler had a water-spaniel, who for some months had been among the horses in the stable, living on great terms of intimacy with them. Immediately after the disabled horse had been led in, he lay down and began to exhibit signs of great distress. The spaniel at once ran to the horse, and commenced fawning around him, licking the poor animal's face, and in various other ways manifesting his sympathy with the sufferer. The struggles and groans of the horse being continued, the dog sought his master, and drew his attention to the wounded animal, and showed great satisfaction when he found his master employed in bathing the wounds, and otherwise ministering to his wants. The hostler continued his care of the horse until a late hour of the night. Forty-eight hours after the horse was injured, the faithful dog had not left the stable, day or night, for a minute, not even to eat; and from his appearance it was believed that he had scarcely slept at all. He was constantly on the alert, not suffering any one to come near the horse, except those attached to the stable and the owner of the horse; his whole appearance was one of extreme distress and anxiety. He often laid his head on the horse's neck, caressing him, and licking around the eyes, which kindness the poor horse acknowledged by a grateful look and other signs of recognition.

This fact furnishes a remarkable and affecting exhibition of animal kindness, and should cover with shame the unfeeling men who beat and abuse that noble and most useful of animals, without stint or remorse, and are utterly destitute of sympathy for the whole brute creation.—Exchange.

THE CHANGE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

A BRILLIANT REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

The best piece of news we have heard for many a day comes to us this morning. The Malakoff of the quadrangle of Independent Journalism, the Chicago Tribune, which was treacherously captured from the Republican owners by Horace White some years ago, has been recaptured from the enemy, and Joseph Medill, its old Republican editor, is about to supplant Horace White in its editorial control, and to hoist once more the Republican flag, under which it fought so many glorious battles, and gained the reputation and influence which made its apostacy so grievous a loss to the Republican cause.

Horace White succeeded in getting control of a majority of the stock of the Tribune some years ago, and very soon afterwards began to place it in antagonism to the Republican party, of which it has for these two or three years past been a bitter foe. Mr. Medill, though never approving of White's editorial policy, was a minority stockholder, and was therefore powerless to interfere.

We are not told for what reason Mr. Medill was recalled from Europe by a proposition to place him in control of his old journal; but he came upon the hint, bought enough shares at $5,000 a share to secure the control of the paper, and is to take possession soon. He will restore it to its old position as a Republican newspaper—independent, but true to the great principles and the great mission of the Republican party. Horace White goes to Europe. This is a victory for the Republican party which more than offsets Indiana and Ohio.—St. Paul Press.

A HEROIC ACT.—The true heroism of Jim Bludsoe, engineer of that historical wreck the Prairie Belle, in "holding her nozzle 'agin the bank till the last galoot's ashore," was nobly imitated a day or two since by an engineer and fireman on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad. Their train, bound eastward, had to cross a bridge, one span of which crossed a creek and the other a roadway. The train was moving slowly, as it neared the bridge, its speed not exceeding twelve miles an hour. When too near to be of service, the engineer observed that a switch had been displaced, and that the engine must of necessity run into the bridge. Both he and the engineer might have saved their lives by jumping from the locomotive, but the result would have been fatal to the passengers. They bravely remained, reversed the engine, and applied the patent air-brake. It was too late for them. The engine dashed through the wood-work and landed in the roadway below, the tender followed, crushed the two brave fellows against the boiler, a postal-car behind fell upon the tender, resting one end upon the abutment of the bridge, and checked the motion of the train. The sleeping passengers in the palace-cars were not even awaked by the catastrophe. Only the train-hands discovered the heroic sacrifice which Perdew and Parent, of Chillicothe, had made. Two charred and shattered corpses were found in the wreck of the engine, all that remained of these two "men who died for men." Railroading has its heroes as well as its knaves, but usually the former are too humble in their lives to be heard of until their death.—Chicago Tribune.

MR. DAWES, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Among the men who are memorable for their lost opportunities, Mr. Henry L. Dawes, of Massachusetts, is rapidly becoming conspicuous. He is a man of ability, but sadly deficient in perseverance. By fits and starts he takes the highest stand in statesmanship, and then fleeing from his own enlarged shadow seeks safety by running into the nearest hole. Last year he made his celebrated exposition of the national finances. He reviewed with firmness the whole policy of the Government, pointing out the errors of the past and the dangers of the future. He held up to the country the spectacle of a nation that was taxing its people to the utmost limit of endurance, and was yet expending money with a lavish hand in the most senseless and extravagant manner. He gave the particulars of the maintenance of sixty-nine Custom-Houses at an enormous expense for no other apparent purpose than to provide pensions for a brigade of office-holders who had no duties to perform save to draw their salaries. He detailed the wastefulness and profligacy which had marked the appropriations by Congress, and insisted that this extravagance had brought the Treasury to the plight that it had to borrow money to pay its current expenses or increase taxes in time of peace. This speech elicited from thinking men of all parties the highest commendation. Gen. Butler at once took the war-path, and denounced Dawes as a traitor to the party. Dawes escaped from Washington, and within six weeks had piece by piece, retracted everything he had said.

This proceeding of Mr. Dawes was but in keeping with his previous history. Occasionally rising to the stature of a giant, he invariably shrank again to the size of the pigmies around him. Since Sumner's death, and since he has had aspirations for the vacant chair of that Senator, he seems to have abandoned all effort to rise above his fellows. Accepting Butler's success as an indication that nothing is to be gained by honesty and fairness, he seems to have engaged in the fruitless effort to outbid that demagogue, and to defeat him for the Senate by excelling him in his own peculiar appeals to passion, prejudice, and hate.

Another specimen of the stuff that Mr. Dawes related to his hearers was that "four millions of helpless and defenseless negroes when they retire at night, retire in the dread apprehension that the torch of the incendiary and murderous weapon of the assassin may extinguish all hope of life in the morning." His appeal was to save these four millions of people from the instant massacre that would follow the election of Gen. Banks or any other anti-Administration man to Congress! Could Butler surpass this?

EXTRACT FROM MR. DAWES' BOSTON SPEECH.

There are things upon which Gen. Butler and myself differ widely, sharply. Those are well defined differences. We have discussed them on another theater. The people of Massachusetts, the people of this district, and of my district, know what they are. We differ still upon them. In coming here to ask you for Congress, I ask no truce upon these questions. I expect none. I do come here overwhelmed with the conviction that unity is safety [applause], and dissension is destruction; that men are nothing, but that the cause is everything, and that it just as vital here in this district as it is in any other district in this Commonwealth. Whatever may be those differences which I entertain, and which I still entertain, it is of the utmost importance that the front of Massachusetts in Congress should not be broken. [Applause.]

TO VOTE FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

GOOD BYE, MR. DAWES!

A spectacular performance of unusual indecency was given by Mr. Henry L. Dawes in Salem, Mass., night before last. Mr. Dawes exhibited himself as an advocate of Gen. Butler's re-election. We have already bidden good-bye to Mr. Dawes. We want no more of him. He has consorted with demagogues and political gamblers, and when he asks to be considered with them but not of them he asks too much. It is really humiliating to think that the man who to-day pleads for Gen. Butler has had the opportunity to betray the confidence of the respectable people in America.

A STORY OF CHARLES SUMNER.

The November number of Scribner has an article on Senator Sumner's pictures and engravings, which contains a story that deserves a wider circulation than a magazine can command. Over the dining-room mantel of the Washington House hung Tintoretto's Miracle of St. Mark. It is supposed to be the study from which Tintoretto painted the great picture which is at Venice. The wife of a Massachusetts Congressman once said: "That painting made Charles Sumner Senator!" The saying was not as wild hyperbole as it seems. The speech which made Sumner's political fortunes was that on Our Immediate Anti-Slavery Duties, which he delivered at Faneuil Hall, November 6, 1850. By it he placed himself at the head of the Anti-Slavery party, cutting loose from the political ties between himself and the blue blood of Boston. Massachusetts repaid him with the Senatorship. Judge Jay called this speech "the greatest effort of the kind in the English language." Its gist lay in these words: "There is a legend of the Church still living on the admired canvas of a Venetian artist, that St. Mark, descending from the skies, with headlong fury into the public square, broke the manacles of a slave in the presence of the very Judge who had decreed his fate. This is known as 'The Miracle of the Slave,' and grandly has art illumined the scene. Should Massachusetts hereafter, in an evil hour, be desecrated by any such decree, may the good Evangelist once more descend with valliant arm to break the manacle of the slave." Sumner had seen and studied the painting during his life in Europe. He made his recollection of it the crowning point of his speech. His description was quoted everywhere. It awoke a popular enthusiasm that gave him place and power.

The day after the speech, some one sent him an engraving of the picture. When Brooks' cowardly blow sent him abroad for the second time, he bought in Paris the study by Tintoretto, which hung, till the sale of his household effects, over his dining-room mantel. He will give it to Joshua B. Smith, the colored member of the Massachusetts Legislature, who did so much to have the resolution of censure rescinded, and who was sent by Massachusetts to carry the glad news to the Senator. It is now in Mr. Smith's possession. He may well prize it as a picture with a history.

Here is some prophesying which the elections last Tuesday pretty effectually spoiled. It is from the Washington Chronicle, of 28th October:

The success of the chameleon party in Ohio and Indiana, made up of all factions, and actuated by different motives, affords no indication of the results of the contest in Pennsylvania, New York, and other Eastern States next month. In the latter, the contest is very different from what it was in the West. In the West the mongrels were for an irredeemable currency, and plenty of it, and on this pretext and the transportation question, rather than general politics, they won. In the East, on the other hand, the party stands on opposite ground; repudiating inflation and favoring contraction, thus showing its inconsistency, and the mass of the people are not likely to be deceived by it. Notwithstanding all the bluster that is manifested, we do not hesitate to express the conviction that the Republicans will hold their own in the Eastern States at the ensuing elections and elect a majority of the next House of Representatives, thus retaining control of each branch of the Government.

If called upon squarely to point out the newspaper habitually stealing more paragraphs than any other publication in the country, what can a fellow do, when looking at the first column on its editorial page, but lay his hand on his breast and exclaim sadly: "The New Orleans Republican!"—St. Louis Journal.

It is safe to say the Journal has not seen a copy of the Portland Bulletin, recently.

On Wednesday of last week, in Steilacoom, an accident happened to three persons, one of whom was thought to be fatally injured, and the other two are painfully bruised. Messrs. Schafer, Voigt and a Polish tailor (whose name is unknown to us), jubilant over the result of the election of the preceding day, took a seat in the tail end of a country wagon for a short ride through the town. On turning a corner over some small stumps and hillocks, the seat and its occupants were thrown out backwards, fatally injuring the tailor, knocking out some of Mr. Schafer's teeth and bruising his back, and painfully bruising Mr. Voigt. At last accounts the tailor was believed to be dying, while the others were recovering from their wounds.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.—We find the following in a New York paper of late date:

United States Assistant District Attorney Smith has commenced suit in the United States District Court on behalf of the United States against William H. Cadwell, a printer, to recover from him $500 penalties for issuing business cards in the similitude of United States currency. There is no charge that the cards were to be passed as money, as they could not well be so used, for they present the appearance of a "$3" greenback, and there is no greenback of that denomination; but it is a violation of law, punishable with a penalty, to be recovered in a civil action, to issue or publish any business advertisement "in the likeness or similitude of United States money." The penalty is $100 for each advertisement so issued, and there are five cards or notes in the present case. This provision of law is frequently ignorantly violated by reputable business men.

If this is sound law a great many persons may be prosecuted who have no idea of it.

AN INTERESTING LEGAL POINT.

A curious question was lately decided by the Supreme Court of New York: The case is thus reported in a New York exchange:

James Marshall was some years ago divorced in this State, his wife Elizabeth charging him with adultery, and obtaining a decree against him, among other things ordering him not to marry again. Very soon after he went to Susquehanna, in Pennsylvania, and there married a lady, a resident of this city, who figures in this suit as Martha G. Marshall. They came back to this city and resided here. About a year ago he asked a divorce from her, charging her with the same crime his first wife had charged against him.

In addition to broad denials, Mrs. Marshall preferred a claim to the Court that as he was in plain and open contempt of the Court in marrying her, he could not invoke its powers to free himself from her. Judge Donohue so held, and the husband appealed.

On the appeal, Judge Westbrook gives the prevailing opinion. He holds that the marriage being between residents of the State, who, though they went out of the State to marry, never lost their residence, being in violation of a decree, is absolutely void, and without any regard to the second wife's knowledge of the facts. This being so, the mere question of contempt he passes lightly.

Judge Daniels very decidedly dissents. He holds that the marriage, being made in a foreign jurisdiction, is not void. It is doubtful whether it would be, even if contracted in the State. At any rate, it has never been so decided, and in this case to so decide would be to give the husband, who is clearly in fault, the advantage he seeks.

Judge Davis, in giving the casting vote, leans to Judge Westbrook's opinion, and adds that by such decision, a question heretofore undecided will be brought directly to the Court of Appeals.

A SENSIBLE CRITICISM.

The Christian Cynosure says: "We cannot help but notice with regret, which will be shared by sincere Christians generally, the defiant and worldly spirit shown by Plymouth Church on Mr. Beecher's return. He conducted the usual Friday evening lecture and preached on the Sabbath. The church was gaily adorned with flowers and on both occasions the crowd was beyond the capacity of the building. A decent respect for the name of religion and the Christian churches of the land would, in the present state of the scandal, have advised less publicity. Mr. Beecher referred to the matter as a discipline from God upon the church, or, as he expressed it, God has brought you upon the grindstone to sharpen you for the day of battle; yet upon every hand there was an ovation as of victory. No useful lesson seemed to be gained from the discipline; no humiliation was expressed, if felt; no call to fasting and prayer; but gay receptions, songs, promenades and thundering applause."

THE MERCHANTS AND THE FARMER

It is difficult to perceive upon what ground those who have taken it upon themselves to advise the wholesale merchants to close down on the country retailers, can justify the giving of such advice. The object is to compel the country merchants to force payment from the farmers, and thus render it impossible for them to hold on to their wheat

To force the farmers to sell their wheat at such prices as can now be realized, would be to force them to lose a large proportion of the proceeds of their labor Of course the creditor has the legal right to enforce payment, even though by so doing he impoverish the debtor, but it has ever been, and ever will be, regarded as oppressive and wicked to use such a legal power at a time when the debtor's property will bring least in the market. If the farmers are willing to allow the ordinary rate of money, they should be shown just the same leniency as others are shown who are able to give their creditors ample security

We say the advisers of this oppression, that the farmers are Grangers, and the Grangers are taking the shipment and sale of their produce out of the hands of the merchants, and therefore they must be punished Admitting the premises, we cannot assent to the conclusion Have not the Grangers a right and the moral right to make the most they can of their property? If a number of farmers, be that number however large or small, want to ship together and ship directly, and pay their store bills in cash, instead of paying the profits in wheat, is not right in it to do so? The merchant has no better right in both profits that on the purchase and sale of the grain, and that on the buying and selling of his merchandise than the farmer has to both Moreover, if the Grangers can supply themselves with such articles as they must have from abroad at lower rates, without anybody to come between them and the foreign producer or manufacturer, they have the legal and moral right to do it. When the Oregon farmer can get a better article of butter, or cheese, or flour, or any other farm commodity, or get it on better terms, by sending out of the State for it, he does not the less that Oregon farmers are producing for the market, he sends off his grain and pockets the saving.

But there is no danger of the farmers burdening themselves with store goods by importations. The merchants can sell goods here as cheaply as the farmers. If, however, they desire to set the farmers earnestly about devising ways and means to the saving in the matter of direct importation, they can not adopt a more effective plan for the accomplishment of that object than to heed the advice tendered them by the enemies of the Grangers "Live and let live," must be the motto of both merchants and farmers, if they wish to co-operate for the best interests of all, and the prosperity of the State

THE BULLETIN DEFENDS GROVER—OF COURSE

Bulletin flies to the rescue of Gov. This may possibly be accounted for by the way the elections in the East have gone, but we doubt it. We have enough of the Bulletin to know its course is not controlled so much by either political events or political principles, as by the personal interests of its owner We therefore attribute its sudden turning and becoming the special champion of His Excellency, to the fact that the Governor's cowardly course in reference to the railway directors' bill, will probably make the owner of the Bulletin to lose his position as President of the two railroads There was joy in the camp of the railway ring here, when the news got to Portland that they had been successful in getting Grover to sign the bill, and in consummating the fraud commenced by Governor Grover enough—Col Cornelius. They read it, and openly spoke of it, as a triumph over the people, who, through their Legislature, had the right to let the charter that bind them to Holman car. This is the explanation of the Bulletin's championship of Grover.

We do not to be misunderstood in this matter, nor to do His Excellency injustice. The facts are sufficiently damaging to him without any coloring We are willing to have it distinctly understood that we have no such motive upon the Governor as is manifestly operated with the other participators of this crime We accuse him of no intentional wrong, but with being timid and timid to do right, when the right course was plain to be seen, and could not be mistaken. It is his miserable vacillating, pettering and parleying, his duty was clear, that we criticise When a man has once got his own mind to hesitate and weigh consequences over a question of right and wrong, he is not prepared to choose the wrong and is always slow to do it.

The consequences of the course of our present Governor, in this case, are likely to be felt all over the State, and in every branch of business The Executive of the State has virtually united with the railway management here in saving there will be no more railways built in Oregon such as they can be kept out, that the railways already built shall still be saddled with a large annual outlay in the way of supporting the personal and political ambitions of Holladay and his minions, and a directory that refuses to Hillsboro and Forest Grove, the most important towns in Washington county, stations for freights and passengers, in order that Col. Cornelius may be rewarded for his treachery to the people with a monopoly of warehousing, shall not be replaced by a directory that would accommodate the people and thus enable the road to pay interest to those whose money built it. This is the position in which His Excellency has placed himself He stands where he does stand, because he will has fears instead of his judgment and conscience, but the people whose interests he has thus wickedly surrendered into the hands of their oppressor will know him yet that in taking counsel of his fears he failed to perceive where the real danger lay

IMMORAL LITERATURE

Few persons probably have anything like a just conception of the enormous traffic in immoral literature. For some time past the subject has attracted the attention of the better people of the Eastern cities, and societies have been formed for the suppression of the nefarious traffic On the evening of the 27th of October, a meeting was held in Brooklyn to consider the question of the remedy for the terrible and growing evil, at which were present about one hundred teachers, clergymen, lawyers, merchants and others of known standing in Brooklyn society The appalling trade in indecent and immoral publications, finds its way into the schools, seminaries, and all other institutions where youth are gathered together, and even invades private families, as was shown by the speakers The Herald's report of the meeting says

Rev Dr Buddington, who has full knowledge of the action of the society, made an address, pointing out the enormity of the evil and urging united and energetic action to rid society of the foul pest Mr Whitehead who presided made some remarks and introduced Mr Anthony Comstock the society's chief detective, who gave the meeting the statistics of the indecent trade so far as his efforts had succeeded in bringing them to light

Mr Comstock spoke of hundreds of varieties of vile publications and tons of stereotype plates seized by the society On one occasion six and a half tons were defaced by acids, and books of three hundred varieties destroyed In one place six hundred and twenty five varieties of stereotype plates were secured One factory had been broken up near the place where the meeting was being held, and another near Greenwood Cemetery, where the work was done by young children Large fortunes have been accumulated in this foul traffic Since the 1st of January last nineteen tons of vile matter have been seized This is not guess, but actual weight Four tons were taken from a single store in Nassau street Account books had been seized in which were the names of forty five hundred dealers, in different cities, all implicated A single printer, as appeared from invoices, had sold obscene books to the extent of $25,000 within four years There had been arrested 148 persons, with 100 convictions and there were twelve now held for trial The speaker presented for examination samples of the vile merchandise, including plates prints and mechanical devices abhorrent to every moral sense

Rev Mr Lyman offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, as expressing the sense of this meeting, representing Christian churches in Brooklyn called to consider facts in relation to the traffic in obscene literature, and the efforts now being made to suppress this traffic

Resolved, That from the facts presented there is grave reason to fear that the Christian public is by no means awake to the imminent and deadly peril to which the community is now exposed from this traffic, that the traffic itself is far more extensive systematic and infamous than is commonly supposed, secretly undermining the morals of the young, even in virtuous and well regulated schools, that therefore greater vigilance from parents, teachers, Christian pastors and guardians is in this respect imperatively needed that this traffic is a prominent cause of social corruption in the community and that every citizen and Christian should aid in the effort to warn the public of the magnitude of this evil

Resolved, That inasmuch as welfare upon this traffic is based, and on through an organized society, that we earnestly commend the efforts now being made under the auspices of the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice, and especially through the agency of Mr Anthony Comstock one of the officers of the society, and special agent of the United States Postoffice Department, to the confidence and cordial support of the Christian public We believe the methods pursued by Mr Comstock to be legitimate and honorable. We believe the results which have thus far been effected to have been important and gratifying We encourage the society to the most vigorous prosecution in the future of the work which it has thus undertaken

Rev Dr Acknowledging the necessity that every such effort should be under the sanction and protection of the law, and gladly recognising the wholesome stringency of existing regulations upon this matter, we protest against any repeal of legal provisions now in force adverse to this traffic.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The New York World has a standing platform in its editorial columns, which is short and to the point It is this

1 Gold and Silver the only Legal Tender no Currency inconvertible with Coin

2 Steady steps toward Specie Payments no step backward

3 Honest Payment of the Public Debt in Coin sacred preservation of the public faith

If the Democracy that have achieved so magnificent a victory before the people, are the Democracy that can stand square on this platform, no one need fear the result of their ascendency That sort of Democracy is old fashioned, sound Republicanism, as far as it goes, and it goes far enough to meet nearly all the issues that can be considered live issues to-day Democracy with its repudiation doctrines and its rag-money all eliminated from it is more like Republicanism with its rings left out than anything else It may be, after all, that this is simply a victory of the Republicans under the name of Democracy over the rings under the name of Republicanism. What's in a name?

It is interesting to note the manner in which the Republicans of New York worked up the voting in that city As a specimen of indirect bribery, the rating on naturalization papers ranks second only to the sale of photographs of Grant in this city at the special election last year This is the way it is done, as stated by the Republic —new Administration organ—of the 27th of October

The regular fee for naturalizing in the United States Courts is $5, and usually the applicants are few and far between, comprising only those who, from some whim or special reason, prefer to take out their papers in these Courts, but this year, owing to a press on the State Courts, a large number of applicants, who feared their inability to get naturalized in time to vote at the coming election, were sent over from the State Courts to obtain their papers in the United States Courts, and the fee in these cases was reduced to twenty-five cents cash" and seventy five cents by ticket, tickets being used by some who came from the political natural committee offices

The attention of the Outrage Committee appointed by the Chattanooga Convention is respectfully directed to the condition of affairs at Red Cloud Indian Agency, Neb, where the Agent was shamefully "intimidated," recently, and prevented from raising a flag staff, by the Ogallallas and Minneconjous For a few minutes there was a prospect that the Agent and his relatives would be massacred, but the commanding officer persuaded the Indians that no offense was intended, and the threatened outrage was averted. The Ogallallas and Minneconjous need reconstructing and any man that says this story and the moral are not true is a Congressman and a liar

Impecunious Dr William Parker, of Connellsville Pennsylvania had a shrewd method of raising the wind which would not disgrace a disciple of Simon the Cameron It was his wont—up to the time that one of Grant's centralized minions of the Postoffice had hands upon him—to write to wealthy people in England telling them that their relatives were in Pennsylvania, in indigent circumstances that he was caring for them, and asking money for their use In this way he imposed upon eight gullible Britons, among them one or two members of Parliament.

During 1874 the English Coal Miners Association expended $330,970 for the support of striking miners in Staffordshire, Barnley and elsewhere As a consequence of this heavy drain on its funds it is now unable to meet its obligations. In addition to these financial troubles, the members are seceding in large numbers. It is said that in South Wales alone 9,000 have withdrawn from the Association, in North Wales 3,080 while from several other districts come equally discouraging reports From these facts one would conclude that the working classes of Great Britain have had their fill of strikes

Judge Blatchford, U S District Judge of New York has decided that in cases when all the creditors of a bankrupt have been duly notified of creditors meetings before a Register in Bankruptcy, it is competent under the provisions of the 27th section of the Bankruptcy act, at a second meeting of the creditors to dispose of the funds in the hands of the assignee in bankruptcy to creditors who have proved their claims without leaving in the possession of the assignee a sum sufficient to pay a similar percentage upon claims set forth in the schedule of the bankrupt but which have not been proven

NOT GUILTY, BUT DON'T DO IT AGAIN —The Salt Lake Herald published an article charging Chief Justice McKean of Utah, with conduct unbecoming an honest judge Judge McKean brought the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury in his Court The Grand Jury reported that they had examined the matter and found the allegations utterly groundless that while they condemn the attack upon the Chief Justice, yet the freedom of the press is so essential to the general welfare that they do not deem it advisable at this time to indict the editors of the Herald

The Republic of the 26th says "The drawing room car Dutchess conveying Commodore Vanderbilt and a party of friends passing south on the Chicago special express on Tuesday last, was run as a special train between Buffalo and Albany The car was drawn by engine No 280 Reuben Allen engineer and while on the Utica and Albany division traveled a distance of 422 miles in the fast time of thirty-nine minutes" This is about as fast time as there is on record except General Applegate's famous ride down the Sierras on the Central Pacific

William Coleman was recently arrested in Washington City for assault and battery on Rachel Coleman by setting a vicious dog on her and was sent to jail for six months. Rigorous justice, that.

"A bull with a human arm has been brought to this country from Calcutta," says a New York paper He can't be exhibited in Oregon there's a law against the exhibition of human monstrosities.

CITY.

CANINE AFFECTION —We have just heard of an instance of sagacity, combined with a touching affection manifested by a dog, which we think worthy of mention A gentleman of this city is the owner of a large Newfoundland dog, which several months ago the dog was on the bottom, some distance south of the city in company with a small phaeton, which it appears he was driving. Unaccountable companion of the dog soon became apparent. While the dogs were running along the road, they suddenly came upon a small party of Indians, who were returning to the city from a hunting expedition No sooner did the young gentleman perceive the Indians than their instincts prevailed and the inhuman proposition was made and instantly carried into effect, to shoot the whites. The weapons, however, were those of depraved hearts was carried into effect, to shoot the whites. The weapons, however, were those of depraved hearts and the inoffensive little dog was shot at and mortally wounded upon and mortally wounded. The large dog started on a full run for the city intending to escape but discovering that his small companion was disabled and could not follow, he returned to its assistance. Going to the dog, and observing in the situation at a glance, and taking his little companion in a dying condition, he licked the poor creature up fondly with his tongue and started towards home. When the boys saw it, they gave chase like young Indians, shouting at the top of their voices, and shots were discharged at the dauntless dog, one of which took slight effect, which caused him to drop the dog and run, which caused his escape This account we have been assured, is true, and was told by the young gentlemen themselves when they returned to the city. It is certainly a remarkable instance of sagacity and affection.

REVOLUTION IN SOUTH AMERICA —The [illegible] revolution, as stated by a letter from [illegible] to the friends and acquaintances of Mr. Edward A. Flint, who, in 1870, was a member of the Washington Dramatic Company of the Pacific Coast. [illegible] at last accounts was at Callao, the port of Lima, Peru, and is Superintendent of two railroads which center in Arequipa, the Arequipa and Mollendo and the Arequipa and Puno Railroads in Mr Norton C Latham's contract with him in 1873 [illegible] after, on a visit to Peru, he was starving with him in Callao, but at last accounts was recovering. Mr. Flint is the chief engineering party among the [illegible] of an engineering party consisting of a Captain and two assistants, consisting lately from Juliaca in the southern part of Peru, near Lake Titicaca, which [illegible] from Bolivia. They live in a car [illegible] for the purpose, and called by the [illegible] up for the purpose, and called by the natives "The Saint's Rest." It has an [illegible] with desk sofa, stove, etc., and is one end with desk sofa, stove, etc., the other end of the car the dining room with a table for eight persons, and three berths at one end, and then at the other end of the car [illegible] The cook was a darky, and gave [illegible] satisfaction both in style and variety of food Juliaca is a small town with a cathedral, however, and is the center of a large district fairly settled with Indians, and the only thing in it is the station yard, which is [illegible] long by 700 wide, and accommodates the business of both the Puno and Cusco Railroads. The offices are yet only wooden buildings, but in a few years the station will probably be the finest in South America"

POLICE COURT —A number of cases were disposed of in the Police Court yesterday morning, principally drunks and disorderlies the effect of late carousals on Saturday night Adequate fines were imposed in all cases, some of which were liquidated, and others of which were sent to jail to serve out the time allotted sentence for the off

MILITARY NOTES.

The following orders have just been issued:

Paragraph 4, Post Orders No. 143, current [illegible] Fort Walla Walla, authorizing the Post Quartermaster to purchase in open market, at lowest current rates, ten pounds castile soap and two quarts spirits turpentine for treatment of diseased cavalry horses is confirmed.

The sum of four dollars and sixty-five cents will be stopped from the pay of Sergeant Francis Kuhn, Company F, 1st Cavalry, being the amount paid him in exc[illegible] through error, by 1st Lieutenant Edward R. Theller, 21st Infantry, Acting Assistant Quartermaster, as overseer in charge of laborers, at thirty-five cents per day, from December 1 to 31, 1873,—and refunded to the Quartermaster's Department.

Upon the recommendation of his post commander, the charge—violation of the 45th Article of War—now pending against Private Hugh B. Ward, Company I, 21st Infantry, is withdrawn, and he is restored to duty without trial.

Captain James Jackson, 1st Cavalry, is appointed to act as inspector on certain ordnance and ordnance stores at Fort Klamath, Oregon, for which Captain John L. Johnston, 21st Infantry, commanding Company F, is accountable, reported the 28th ultimo as requiring the action of an inspector.

Captain Frank G. Smith, 4th Artillery, is appointed to act as inspector on certain subsistence stores at Fort Cape Disappointment, W. T., for which First Lieutenant Samuel E. Jones, 4th Artillery, Post Commissary of Subsistence, is accountable, reported the 31st ult. as requiring the action of an inspector.

AMUSEMENTS.

Museum Hall was well filled last evening on the occasion of the appearance in this city of Dr. Haskell and the California Concert troupe. After a brief address by Dr. Haskell, the entertainment consisted of selections of vocal and instrumental music. Of the latter part of the entertainment, we can speak in complimentary terms. Prof. Steele is unquestionably one of the finest b[illegible] profundo vocalists who has ever visited Portland. He rendered in magnificent style "The Old Sexton," "Simon, the Cellarer," and "Castles in the Air," and performed a cornet solo ("Annie Laurie") in a very artistic style. Mr. Tony Benton gave several Irish character songs in a manner which afforded the audience much pleasure. Mr. J. Hardinge favored the audience with several selections, rendered very finely on the concertina. Dr. Haskell introduced his ventriloqual powers to the amusement of all, and the entertainment closed with the exhibition of the Royal Marrionettes. The capers and antics performed by these automatons is really wonderful. A performance will be given this evening. The entertainment is good and is certainly worth the price of admission.

PERSONAL.

Rev. T. L. Eliot is a passenger on the incoming steamer due this evening. He returns home after an absence of several months in the East.

We were afforded the pleasure of a call yesterday from Col. Chris. Taylor, the well known merchant of Dayton, who is now on important business in Portland. Col. Chris. is one of the old substantial pioneers of the State, having often visited this city when nothing stood on the bank of the river but the traditional "log cabin." He is in excellent health and spirits, and although the snows of fifty winters have passed over his head, the Colonel looks as if he would weather fully another half century. He will return home to-morrow.

While you are waiting for the performance to commence in the hall, step into the Museum and see the many strange sights on exhibition there.

PAUSE WHILE YOU READ THIS! The season for parties and balls has arrived and the cold dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy for that matter, likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nicely closely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either, when HECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Heck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

LATE NEWS FROM CASSIAR.

The following news from Cassiar we compile from the Victoria papers:

Mr. Gerke left Deas creek on the 17th ult. The hills surrounding Deas creek were covered with deep snow. There was no snow on the creek. Twenty-five or thirty men were left at work and were to start to come out about the 26th ult. Fifty men will winter at Deas creek and fifty more at Deloire. The diggings on the Deloire are believed to be very rich. Charity & Co., on McDane creek, divided 600 ounces among tenmen for three weeks' work. Peace River Smith & Co. washed up seventy-six ounces, and $9 for the last day's washing. The Black Jack Co. were doing first-rate. Two men named Fred. Mill and Jo. Burgess struck good prospects on the South Fork of McDane creek. Mr. Gerke has $140 of this gold in his hands. Since the 2d of October heavy frost was experienced and Stickine river was full of floating ice. The pack animals were brought down to winter at Fort Wrangell. The men left at Wrangell will come down on the Otter, which steamer was met above Millbank Sound on Thursday last.

Mr. Johnson, the mail-carrier, states that all travel on Stickine river had ceased and the river was full of float ice. Mr. Sullivan is at Glenora Landing, where he will winter. The steamer Hope was hauled out at Wrangell. It is estimated by Mr. Crump that a million and a quarter of gold dust has been taken out of Cassiar this season. There is not a broken man on the California. Many have from $1,500 to $5,000 each.

DEAS CREEK, Oct. 5.—This place is becoming depopulated in first-rate style just now; 76 miners and business men left here this morning for below. Stores and saloons are being closed for the winter. The next and last party to leave here will number about 60, and will leave here between the 15th and 20th inst. Weather up to date is fine; but very few companies are working, expecting every day to be the last.

TELEGRAPH CREEK, Oct. 20.—It has been snowing and raining here and along the trail to Deas Lake for several days. Miners are coming in very fast, and are going below as fast as conveyances can be obtained. There was a big rush for Bill Moore's scow as she was starting for Wrangell this morning. About 45 obtained passage on her. There are about 75 here yet waiting for canoes, which are getting very scarce.

DEAS CREEK, Oct. 13.—For the past two weeks the weather has been very fine, but to-day there has been a marked change, which makes those who intend to go below prepare for light marching orders. Stragglers are still coming in from the Deloire and Thibert creek; but no news of late discoveries. About 30 men left here yesterday and to-day for below. Only three or four companies are at work, and they are liable to suspend operations at any moment.

WRANGELL, Oct. 27.—Two canoes arrived this evening from Telegraph creek with 27 passengers. They report considerable slush ice all along the river. The animals were about 33 miles above the H. B. Post, making but slow progress. It is supposed that a few more frosty nights will blockade the river in many places, making it an impossibility for the animals to reach their destination.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

This day at 10 o'clock A. M., Oscar Kilbourn, the popular auctioneer, will sell a lot of furniture, carpeting, crockery, etc.

Mr. T. Rodgers is quite a poet, as will appear by referring to the advertising columns. He dedicates his poem "To the Ladies." Read it. His poetry is very good, but his elegant stock of boots and shoes is far better. Ladies should not fail to give Mr. Rodgers a call.

When you smoke, use the best Havanas. Try O'Brien's.

Prof. Steele is a star that can shine before any audience.

The great Frenchman, Alfaroche made special[illegible] of irony and sarcasm in all his writings, but JOHN O'NIEL & CO. make specialties of selling the finest clothing, and [illegible], cravats, ties and hats at unparalleled low prices. For a winter suit, their's are of the best, and get yourself dressed at rest. This is not irony or sarcasm, but stubborn fact, as everybody will find out who goes to their store. Naked truth is good, but people don't go about in that way and must have clothing, and the supplies received by this firm are just what are wanted for the season.

NEW ATTRACTIONS.—Very few are acquainted with the fact that JOS. KOHN, opposite the First National Bank, has just opened a magnificent assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods. None can but admire the handsome Diagonal, the beautiful Beaver Suits, the attractive Cassimers and other goods now displayed at his large and elegant store. He, as well as his clerks, are accommodating, and will gratify the tastes of all who may chance to call. Mr. Kohn can please you; that is morally certain. Now is the time to purchase a fall suit.

Dr. Steele's Medical Wonder has stood the test of time as the cure for rheumatic and other pains, as well as colds, coughs, cramps, &c. Taken with Wonder Pills for liver complaints, kidney disorders and impure blood. For sale everywhere.

TO THE LADIES OF PORTLAND.—MRS. W. N. WALLACE has established a first class DRESSMAKING ESTABLISHMENT in one of the new and Elegant Rooms on Stark Street, between First and Second, at which place she would respectfully solicit your patronage.

TO THE LADIES.—Miss Derry, dressmaker, begs leave to announce to the ladies that she has returned to the city and will be pleased to have them call on Thursday, Oct 15th (opening day), at her room, No. 11, Dekum's Building, over Clark & Henderson's.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.—Save yourself many dollars in money and many pangs of pain by keeping PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL constantly on hand and using it for all lameness and pain. The great popularity of our ABOLITION OIL is owing to the fact that we spare neither labor nor expense in preparing it. It always has and always shall keep it up to its original standard of unparalleled excellence. ABOLITION OIL cures rheumatism, gout, sprains, stiff and swollen joints, bruises, neuralgia, lame back, pleurisy, sciatica, sore throat, cramps, colic, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, nervous head-ache, tooth-ache, ear-ache and all aches and pains internal and external. Sold by all druggists.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.—Strengthen and regulate your system. Renew your age. You can do it by using the Regulator and Purifier, PRATT'S NEW LIFE. Stir up your torpid liver; stimulate your kidneys; regulate your bowels; cure, and prevent fever and ague, piles, dyspepsia, jaundice, dropsy, heart disease, and all bilious complaints with the great vegetable remedy, PRATT'S NEW LIFE. For sale by all druggists.

Beadicea! The Queen of the Iceni, a people of Britain, at the head of an army, attacked their Roman invaders, during the first century of the Christian era, reduced London to ashes and put seventy thousand people to the sword. She is described as one of the most beautiful women and a prototype of female patriots. She wore her long yellow hair floating in the wind and a splendid golden torque, on her neck. Luxuriant hair has been always regarded as a crowning beauty for women, and any lady may have it who will use LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Use of Tobacco aggravates dyspepsia. It destroys the tone of the stomach and weakens the gastric juices which reduce the food to chyle and prepare it for the nutrition of the body. Experience proves that a discontinuance of the use of tobacco, and the regular employment of PLANTATION BITTERS will restore the vitality to the enfeebled organs, and health will ensue.

Bruises.—Man is ever liable to bruises. It is hard to keep out of scrapes. But there is an infallible remedy for such afflictions in the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. It soothes the pain, removes inflammation, and leaves nature free to work out a cure for the affected parts. Nearly thirty years ago this preparation was first offered to the people. In everything, even good, needs to be known to be appreciated, it was only after a career of remarkable success that this Liniment took its present foremost place among the alleviators of pain. This it retains as the increasing sale evidences. Try a bottle and learn its value.

It is easy to distinguish the hectic spot of consumption and the flush brought to the cheek by the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Both end in death. But HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM removes the causes of cutaneous diseases, and induces health. The glow returns to the cheek, and there is nothing unnatural in it. The lady feels better and happier. Every woman owes it to herself to use the Balm, because Beauty, to her, is strength.

Sore Throat, Cough, Colds, and similar troubles, if suffered to progress, result in serious pulmonary affections, oftentimes incurable. Brown's Bronchial Troches reach directly the seat of the disease, and give almost instant relief.

PLAYED OUT NOSTRUMS.—Will codfish oil cure a consumptive cough? No! Will opiates? No!! Will inhalation? No!!! Can such a cough be cured at all? Yes, it can. Reject all these nostrums; they have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Try HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. Thousands upon thousands are using it. Millions have tried it. So far it has never disappointed any man or woman who took it for a cough or cold, however violent.

A REMARKABLE CASE

THE INFLUENCE OF MIND OVER MATTER—A WIFE RESCUED FROM VIOLENCE BY A BEDRIDDEN HUSBAND—RELAPSE AND SUDDEN DEATH

(Minquas Valley [illegible], Oct. 26) Correspondence of the New York Herald)

On Saturday last an itinerant peddler entered the house of James Tolin, living near this place and proceeded to display his wares to Mrs Tolin, [illegible] Tolin was confined to his bed, and had been so confined for [illegible] rheumatism that it had been long impossible for him to leave his bed [illegible] After showing his goods, and not buying anything the peddler commenced a conversation, in the course of which he learned the lady's name was Mrs Tolin. Finally he made an insulting proposal to Mrs. Tolin, and [illegible] ordered him to leave the house. Instead he approached her and [illegible] hold of her, [illegible] with an oath, that she was in his power, as her husband was as good as dead. Mrs Tolin, being a delicate [illegible] ran [illegible] arming into [illegible] and before she could [illegible] by the door, caught her again. A desperate struggle ensued between them, and Mrs Tolin was thrown violently to the floor by the powerful villain. Mr. Tolin [illegible] the time a witness of the struggle, lying powerless on his bed. At the sound of his wife calling on the floor, however, and her frantic shrieks for aid, he seemed to be endowed with superhuman power

Under the influence of that power he sprang from the bed he had been unable to leave for years. Seizing a heavy crutch that stood near the bed, he rushed into the room where the struggle was going on. Mrs Tolin had succeeded in regaining her feet, but the peddler had grasped her around the waist, and was endeavoring again to throw her. As Mr Tolin entered the room, the [illegible] side of the bedridden cripple hastening to the defense of his wife seemed to paralyze the assailant, and he stood staring as if in a trance at the approach of the husband. Mr Tolin nerved by unnatural strength, brought the crutch down over the head of the peddler, and felled him like an ox to the floor. The [illegible] exhausted and superhuman effort that had supported the husband had left him. With a shriek that told of the intense agony of the relapse he clasped his hand to his forehead and dropped to the floor, and almost instantly expired.

Mrs Tolin succeeded in getting the body of her husband back in the bed and then started for assistance. She was obliged to go over a mile before she was able to obtain any. When she returned with several neighbors the peddler was gone. He had recovered consciousness and fled, leaving his [illegible] in the house. When the [illegible] of the affair spread [illegible] and the tragic death of Mr. Tolin [illegible] throughout the neighborhood the most excitement prevailed. Scores of men [illegible] in every direction, searching for the peddler, but as yet he has not been found. In the present feeling, if he falls into the hands of the populace that he will be lynched there is not the slightest doubt

A DIGNIFIED TRAVELER

A tall, [illegible] and [illegible] of the Quaker persuasion, well known in Philadelphia arrived in New York the other day, and having no [illegible] age but a [illegible] satchel was utterly oblivious to the appeals of the hackmen as he emerged from the railway station.

"[illegible] Hotel? Fifth Avenue—goin up? Fifth Avenue?

Broadbrim stalked right on without a word. Another knight of the whip charged down on him

"Say Nicholas Hotel? Say Nicholas coach? This way for the Say Nicholas."

No response from the passenger, and not a muscle moved at the appeal. Then there was a rush of half a [illegible]

"Kerridge sir kerridge? Wanter ride up? Winsur House? Whose goin up to the Winsur?"

"Astor House, sir?"

Brevoort House? Brevoort?

Metropolitan Hotel?" Right down Broad way!

"Ere you are! kerridge sir."

The traveler, [illegible] ing up like a terapin among vinegar cruets and face as placid as a pan of milk, was quietly and silently moving away from the crowd of jarvies, who looked after him with something like amazement, when a sudden thought appeared to strike one wild [illegible] of the throng. He [illegible] the handles of his travelling bag with

"Deaf and Dumb Asylum, sir? Goin right up."

This was too much. Dignity and [illegible] laugh, and the hackdriver got a fare for a down town hotel.—Com. Bul

PHYSICAL PECULIARITIES OF NEGROES.—Dr A W McDowall publishes in the American Practitioner some observations on this subject, which contains some facts that are new to us. The negro's want of power of resisting disease was abundantly shown in the late war. Dr McDowell states that the fine chests frequently seen among the males are due solely to the great development of the pectoral muscles and that the lungs are decidedly less in weight than those of white men. The liver on the other hand is larger. He goes on to say. The negro's lower bowel was smaller. The colored troops were much troubled with constipation, often requiring purgatives while at the same time and place the white troops had diarrhœa. The most marked difference existed between the spleen of the blacks and that of the whites the former only weighing half as much as the latter. Ague cake was one of the sequelæ of malarial disease observed among the whites, but not among the blacks. In his army practice the author weighed the brain at every post mortem and found that its weight increased in direct ratio to the admixture of Caucasian blood.—Boston M. Incal and Surgical Journal

Latest Pacific cable dispatch reports the market for Pacific coupon sixes [illegible] at 104 @ 104⅛ for average and 104⅛ @ 104½ for club per cent. The Tycoon mail steamer is quoted at 4s 6d per quarter for average quality just shipped and 4s 7d per quarter for average nearly due at Queenstown.

But little has shown itself to buy in local money matters worthy of note. The city banks are apparently doing about the usual amount of business and no change in rates is reported. Enough accommodations are hardly to be as free as heretofore and the closeness is more likely to increase than otherwise until the bulk of the crops is moved and the temporarily locked capital of the country begins to return to the ordinary channels of trade.

The complaint of dullness in trade circles and of a lack of cash among the masses of the people to develop the resources of the country [illegible] which we often hear now a days in Oregon and which is to be the remedy is a question that thinking men are not yet able to answer. It is held by a very respectable school of politico economists that no country can start in real prosperity until its exports exceed its imports and hence we have in all new countries where the consumption exceeds the production the state of facts which exists on the Northwest coast to day. In fact the United States are just now at that point where prosperity would begin under the doctrine enunciated. By the last report of the Bureau of Statistics it seems that during the last fiscal year this condition was fulfilled. For the year ending June 30, 1874, the foreign imports, less foreign exports, were $57,089,910 while the domestic exports reduced to gold value were $69,957,156—an excess of $57,171,246, or almost exactly 10 per cent. About $60 000 000 of the exports were gold and silver leaving a net drain of the precious metals of $38 157 409 against one last year of $19,377,687, again, if we go round it, of $26,062,138, or more than 40 per cent. Compared with the [illegible] year of 1873, the figures show a remarkable change. The imports have decreased $63 386 726 while the exports gold value have increased $49 636 829 making a net difference of $113 373 555. Among the articles the importation of which shows [illegible] of the [illegible] iron and steel twenty three millions, of which six millions are in pig and bar and woollens, sixteen millions of which twelve millions are in the raw material, silk, six millions; cotton, five, linen, three, wood three, tin two and lead, tobacco, and watches, with carbonate of soda, one million each. These figures which embrace nearly all the changes show that much of the decrease in imports has been due to a failure of demands for manufacturing purposes.

The Wheat Market

Careful inquiry on the part of our reporter to day elicited no important information in regard to this cereal. Buyers here quote at $1 35 a cental, though for good round lots from 1½ to more per cental. Receipts continue full, and vessels loading have very quick dispatch. During last week Messrs Hastie & Co. [illegible] at the Dalles, loaded the ship Lyon the former carrying 1,400 tons, and the latter 1,075 for a total in the two vessels of nearly 80,000 bushels. The same firm is now engaged in loading the bark Washington and the ship City of Dublin and appearances indicate that they will have them away in a few days. Arrangements are being made to load the ship Globe, now at Astoria but are not yet fully settled. She can either load at Astoria or come here under her agreement. There are several other grain [illegible] in port, some of which are under charter and others seeking but no new charters have come to light to-day. The ship City of Dublin has completed her cargo, as far as the [illegible] of the river will allow her to do here and is ready to drop down the river. Her entire cargo will consist of about 13,000 barrels of extra flour of Salem Mills make.

The boating season on the upper Willamette has begun, and it is anticipated that the receipts of wheat from the warehouses along the river will greatly increase the [illegible] making this market in the next few weeks.

Aside from the wheat market produce is not in active demand and prices are dull at our last quotations

Shipping Intelligence.

Passenger[illegible] The [illegible] for San Francisco will be due to-morrow night.

The steamer California several days overdue has not yet arrived. She is probably delayed on the Sound. On Saturday last she was at Port Townsend.

The schooner Gotama with a small amount of produce on board dropped down to the North Portland Mill to-day and will take on a cargo of lumber for the California market.

The British bark Globe, consigned to H. Hewett & Co is at Astoria.

The ship City Camp is discharging ballast at Greenwich Docks.

The ship City of Dublin will positively go down the river to morrow

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alterative Sarsaparilla Dock with [illegible] and Mandrake with the [illegible] of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, and thus [illegible] health and vigor [illegible] and [illegible] pimples, boils, tetter, salt rheum, scrofula, and all diseases or blotches of the skin are the appearance on the surface of impurities in the blood. [illegible] that it could be switched from the blood into [illegible] that would be equally [illegible] of internal derangements. The detection of these same humors in the internal organs of the system, and their location and cure, is the great triumph of this preparation. Any disease that requires a cathartic, or an alterative, or a tonic, will find relief in the [illegible] of these ingredients. Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Diseases of the Kidneys, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Female Weaknesses, Scrofula, Leucorrhœa, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Syphilis, Mercurial Diseases, Incipient Consumption, and even confirmed Consumption itself, are within the conquering power of this remedy. While they are the most powerful, they are the most perfectly safe of all purifying medicines. No one who has once used them will be persuaded to use any other if he can get these. Being sugar coated, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are so wonderful and satisfactory as to excite astonishment.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, humors and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts says of it "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black at discretion. It is only applied being in one preparation and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
